

EDUCATION AND TRAINING DISCOUNTS FOR MACOMB COUNTY EMPLOYEES

In an effort to ensure Southeast Michigan's workforce has the skills needed to compete globally, Automation Alley has partnered with several colleges, universities and training centers that are offering tuition discounts to employees of Automation Alley member companies.

University of Detroit Mercy – Exclusive to Automation Alley, University of Detroit Mercy's College of Business Administration offers the 16th best MBA program for Management in the entire nation, according to U.S. News & World Report. Employees of Automation Alley member companies receive a 50% tuition discount on all Business Administration graduate degrees and certificate programs. This offer applies to new students.

Lawrence Technological University – Exclusive to Automation Alley, Lawrence Technological University offers up to $3,000 in tuition grants to all employees of Automation Alley member companies. These include: $3,000 per semester for full-time undergraduate students (12 credits or more), $1,500 per semester for part-time undergraduate students (at least six credits), $250 for each graduate-level course a student takes. The Automation Alley Educational Savings Program form must be completed and approved to secure these tuition grants. See www.ltu.edu for academic programs.

Davenport University – Davenport University offers all Automation Alley member organizations' employees a 20% discount on the university's more than 60 undergraduate and graduate programs.

For these and more great professional development discounts, please visit Automation Alley's website:

<https://automationalley.com/Current-Members/Education-and-Training-Discounts.aspx>

Discounts subject to change.*